

MODERN ARNIS

Grandmaster Jeffrey J. Delaney, the designated successor of Professor Remy Presas, will be presenting the Art of Modern Arnis. This art blends the elements of Filipino stick fighting, jujitsu and karate into a brilliantly conceived, versatile art that compliments any art you already study. In training, you will learn blocks and disarms with sticks and empty hands; knife disarms and joint locks, traps and baits; flow drills; tapi-tapi sparring and so much more.

MILITARY ARNIS

Professor Lisa McManus, founder of the Art of Military Arnis and Executive Director of the IMAF, will instruct her dynamic and effective art as shared with Military and Law Enforcement around the country. This art incorporates the foundation skills of the beautiful Art of Modern Arnis along with boxing, ukemi and ground fighting.

STAFF AT THE CAMP

This camp will be staffed with some of the finest black belt instructors in the country, including Guro Chester Brown, Sensei Dean Romanelli, and Guro Kevin McManus along with team leaders who have been specifically selected for their ability to teach and lead. Personalized attention, student focused delivery and caring instruction makes this one of the most exciting camp experiences in the nation.

INSTRUCTOR CERTIFICATION

This camp will include an intensive Instructor Training Program which is designated to rapidly train an instructor with sufficient fundamentals to be able to conduct a Modern Arnis program in their school. Basic and advanced instructor certificates are awarded upon successful completion of ranking and evaluation. Testing for belt rank is also offered at the end of camp. No previous experience is necessary.
